

Core Curriculum Information Sheet

Course Information:

Course name-Urban Master Planning Workshop;

Course number-M511008B;

Credit-4.0; Learning hours-64.0

Classroom Teacher:

Name of teacher responsible-She Gaohong; Title-Professor;

Name of teacher responsible-Xu Gaofeng; Title-Associate Professor

Course Introduction:

It is the professional core curriculum of urban and rural planning master students, teaching the basic theory and planning methods of urban master planning. Students should choose a town or city for example to practice planning investigation, analysis and production. There are four main aims of this course: First, grasp the basic theoretical knowledge of master planning; second, grasp the scientific methods of master planning investigation, analysis and production; Third, grasp the master planning of the city drawings and achievements; Fourth, develop professional skills in student planning practice, including research, analysis, presentation, and teamwork and collaboration. The course contents are followed:

1.Basic master planning theory and method;

2.Master planning field research, information gathering and departmental interviews;

3.Master planning analysis and scheme planning and design;

4.Output and production of master plan results.

Course Objectives:

1.Building up the basic theoretical knowledge for urban master planning.

2.Learning different methods of investigation and analysis for the preparation of master planning.

3.Cultivating the professional skills in planning practice, including field investigation, data analysis, image illustration, teamwork communication and spirit of collaboration.